Schooling Sport Academy Selects PEAR Sports to Develop a Dynamic Digital Coaching App

Joseph Schooling, Singapore's first and only Olympic Gold Medalist, shares his training insights in the new Schooling Sport App, built by PEAR, coaching everyone to be their best, fit self Newport Beach, California – November 30, 2020 – PEAR Sports has partnered with Joseph Schooling and the Schooling Sport Academy to create the Schooling Sport App. This mobile app delivers unique, smart technology that provides adaptive audio and video coaching to anyone desiring real-time personal training to reach their fitness goals faster.

“Fitness plays a huge role in my life and career and it was the added focus on fitness that helped me claim my first Olympic gold medal. I want to share my success and give everyone the opportunity to gain access to personalized training programs via my new fitness app, Schooling Sport,” said Joseph.

He added, “Whether it is to build confidence or to help a user achieve their fitness aspirations and goals, Schooling Sport aims to empower, develop and nurture each user’s fitness dream and bring out the best in everyone. I’m thrilled to work with the team at PEAR Sports to create my own signature content for this intelligent fitness app to engage, coach and measure health progress for our users. Each dynamic workout adapts to your performance, telling you when to speed up or back off based on your heart rate and other biometric measurements.”

Joseph Schooling is a multi-time All-American and World Championships bronze medalist from the University of Texas. He is Singapore’s first Olympic gold champion and famously beat out Michael Phelps at the 2016 Rio Olympics to take gold in the 100m butterfly. He is celebrated throughout his home country for his accomplishments as well as his philanthropy. To that end, the Schooling Sport App is a project that Joseph hopes will provide users great workouts and training plans with personalized audio coaching from world-renowned athletes to train smarter, not harder.

The Schooling Sport App is designed to provide real-time, adaptive workouts with unmatched tracking technology for today’s wearables. It contains hundreds of workouts and plans that include running, cycling, HIIT, strength, yoga, breathing and more. The app is a convenient, safe way to get great workouts from Joseph Schooling and other top coaches and enjoy getting fit. The exercises are suitable for all fitness levels and body types.

“We are honored to work with Joseph Schooling and the Schooling Sport Academy to develop a personalized coaching app that includes validated custom content. It is a unique platform that offers interactive visual and audio coaching for in-the-moment exercise instruction and inspiration.

Joseph is all about positively influencing the health of those around him, and this is his way of sharing his healthy fitness routines with others. PEAR is excited to enable him to do that,” said PEAR Sports Co-Founder, Simon Sollberger.
